

LADY OF THE NIGHT

“Lady Of The Night” is a slow bluesy song that captures the plight of the ‘working girl’ as she stands in the rain, smoking her cigarette, waiting for the next taxi to stop, and for her night to begin. The good news is that in the end, she accepts her place in the world with dignity, grace, and a little humor. Sung by a male or female artist, this sultry song delivers on all fronts, story, melody, and mood.

“I just saw her yesterday, she’s doing very well
As she turned to walk away, she laughed and said, ‘life’s hell’
Lady of the Night, Lady of the Night, the Lady of the Night”
