

END OF THE LINE

This slow, mellow rock song is a story about a guy who could be a drifter. Could be a homeless guy. Could just be some guy down on his luck, on the move. Still, he sees things a little differently. No matter how it looks to you, he's just not ready for the End Of The Line.

"I got no money and I got no job
Still I don't borrow and I won't rob
Come tomorrow things will be just fine
I'm just not ready for the end of the line"
