

THE BEST GIRL I EVER HAD

“The Best Girl I Ever Had”, (aka “Corky Get A Club”) is a silly song about that pesky little neighborhood boy that has a crush on an older girl and won’t leave her alone. He rings the doorbell and runs away. He peeks in the window and then hides in the bushes. Problem is, she has a jealous boyfriend who has had enough. The hook line, “Corky get a club. Don’t wanta kill him, I just wanta hurt him bad”, is a bit of an exaggeration, and only said in jest. This is a fun song to listen to and would be a fun song to record as well. Some people actually love this song. You never know what’s going to stick!

“I chased him in the alley, chased him in the street
Chased him in my car, chased him on my feet
Someday I’m gonna get him, his luck ain’t gonna last Man I’m telling you, that boy is really fast
Oh, Corky get a club, don’t wanta kill him
I just wanta hurt him bad
He’s been messin’ with my woman
The Best Girl I Ever Had”
